

Enrollment Guidelines for the “2025 Sun Yat-sen University ‘Belt and Road’ Scholarship Program for International Students (Bachelor’s Degree)”

Founded by Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the famous Chinese revolutionist, Sun Yat-sen University (SYSU) has an educational tradition spanning over 100 years. As a university directly affiliated with the Ministry of Education of China and with the strong support of the Ministry of Education of China and Guangdong Province, SYSU has become a first-class modern comprehensive university, renowned both in China and in the world. Composed of five campuses located in the three cities of Guangzhou, Zhuhai, and Shenzhen, and ten affiliated hospitals, SYSU is marching towards a world-class university and striving to become a global academic center.

SYSU promotes a culture of academic excellence and encourages students to “study at SYSU, strive for excellence”. It implements a management framework and provides services for international students akin to those provided for Chinese students, including regular national conditions education lectures, field trips, social practice activities, and exchange activities for international students in Guangdong to develop outstanding international talents with integrated knowledge.

I. Country-specific Requirements

Applicants shall be outstanding high school graduates recommended by specified institutions in the 10 ASEAN countries and Confucius Institutes co-established with SYSU in Belt and Road Initiative partner countries, including: Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam.

II. Admission Quotas

In principle, each country is allocated up to 15 slots, with a total cap of 150. However, the allocation may be adjusted based on the quality of applicants and the distribution of candidates across different countries, with admission granted on a competitive basis.

III. Eligibility

1. Applicants shall be of non-Chinese nationality and hold a valid foreign passport. They are required to fulfill the requirements outlined in the Notice on the Regulations of Chinese Universities' Acceptance of International Students ([2020] No.12):

Applicants whose parents are both Chinese nationals or one parent is a Chinese national, both or one of whom have settled abroad, and who obtained foreign nationality at birth without holding Chinese nationality shall meet the following requirements to apply as international students: (1) possess a valid foreign passport or proof of nationality for at least four years (inclusive) by April 30, 2025; (2) have a documented history of residing in a foreign country for at least two cumulative years between May 1, 2021, and April 30, 2025. A stay of nine months within a year in the foreign country qualifies as one full year, based on entry and exit records.

Applicants from the Chinese mainland, Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, Macao Special Administrative Region, and Taiwan, who intend to apply as international students after immigrating and acquiring foreign nationality, shall have obtained their foreign nationality before May 1, 2021. They shall also provide proof of residing abroad for at least two years between May 1, 2021, and April 30, 2025. A stay of nine months within a year in the foreign country qualifies as one full year, based on entry and exit records.

2. Applicants shall maintain good health and satisfy the physical standards necessary for applying for a student visa or residence permit.

3. Applicants shall possess a high school diploma or its equivalent qualification as a minimum academic requirement.

4. Applicants shall demonstrate friendliness toward China, diligence in their studies, excellent academic performance, good moral character, and compliance with laws and regulations. They must have no record of school disciplinary violations, security penalties, or criminal offenses.

5. Applicants shall meet the recommendation criteria established by SYSU in their respective home countries and obtain official endorsement from the designated institutions listed in Attachment 1.

6. Language proficiency

Applicants shall possess an HSK (Level V) certificate with a score of 180 points or above). Those applying for a bachelor's degree in Chinese Language are required to hold an HSK (Level IV) certificate with a score of 180 points or above. Applicants who have completed their previous degree in Chinese as the language of instruction may submit a Chinese language proficiency certificate issued by their former institution. Upon verification by SYSU, these applicants may be exempted from submitting HSK certificates.

Outstanding applicants with an HSK (Level III) certificate, scoring 180 points or above, are also eligible to apply for this program.

If pre-admitted, they will be required to study Chinese independently and meet the language requirements (HSK Level V with a score of 180 points or above, or HSK Level IV with a score of 180 points or above for bachelor's degree in Chinese language) within one year. Once the language requirements are met, applicants will receive the formal admission letter and the Confirmation Form for Study in China, allowing them to proceed with their undergraduate studies. If the applicant fails to meet the language proficiency requirement by the specified deadline, the pre-admission qualification will be canceled. In principle, the total number of pre-admitted applicants shall be limited within 30.

7. Applicants under the age of 18 as of September 1, 2025, are required to submit a guardian's letter of assurance.

IV. Application Deadline

说明：专业要求一栏*表示该专业对数学要求较高。 Note: An asterisk (*) in the "Major Requirements" column indicates that the major has a high demand for mathematical skills.

2. Please visit <https://www.sysu.edu.cn/yxsz.htm> for further information about departments or divisions for international students.

3. Students admitted to SYSU who complete the coursework, acquire the necessary credits within the designated study duration, and meet the graduation prerequisites will be granted a graduation certificate from SYSU. Those who meet the requirements for degree conferral will also receive a bachelor's degree and a degree certificate from SYSU.

VII. Scholarship

1. Granting Amount

Scholarship recipients are exempted from tuition fees and will receive a living stipend of RMB 30,000 per student per academic year, disbursed monthly into the student's personal bank account.

Students are responsible for paying accommodation fees, insurance fees, Chinese visa fees, round-trip airfare, medical examination fees, and other related expenses. During the period of self-study in Chinese, the aforementioned scholarships and financial support will not be provided.

2. Granting Period

(1) In principle, the scholarship will cover the standard study duration of the undergraduate program.

(2) Scholarship recipients shall undergo an annual review. Upon passing the review, they will retain eligible to receive the scholarship for the following academic year. Failure to pass the review may result in the suspension or cancellation of the scholarship.

(3) SYSU encourages outstanding students to pursue further education. Undergraduate students applying for a master's degree at SYSU will have opportunities to apply for different scholarships.

VIII. Selection Procedures

1. Qualification review

SYSU will review the applicant's foreign status, highest academic qualifications, recommendations, academic performance, Chinese language proficiency and other supporting documents to finalize the assessment shortlist.

2. Assessment

Applications who pass the qualification review shall log into the SYSU application system (<https://apply.sysu.edu.cn>) to check the notice about the assessment method, location, and schedule and participate in the assessment as instructed in the notice. Normally, one of the following methods will be used in the assessment: (1) Interview; (2) Interview and written examination.

3. Admission

(1) SYSU will select applicants based on their qualification review and results of interview and examination.

(2) SYSU will release the conditional admission results, electronic Admission Letter, and the Confirmation Form for Study in China through its application system (<https://apply.sysu.edu.cn>).

Applicants shall ensure that the email address and phone number provided in the application system are accurate and valid.

(3) Admitted applicants shall apply for an X1 visa at the Chinese embassy or consulate using the Admission Letter and Confirmation Form for Study in China. Upon arrival in China, they shall convert the X1 visa into a student residence permit within 30 days. Failure to do so will result in disqualification from admission. Students with non-student visas shall not be allowed to register. International students holding expired visas or residence permits shall not be allowed to reside on campus or participate in activities.

IX. International Student Management

1. Registration: Admitted students shall register on the specified date and location as indicated in the Admission Letter. Early registration is not permitted. Failure to register on time without prior approval will result in disqualification from admission and scholarship eligibility.

2. Responsibility for Submitted Materials: Applicants are responsible for the authenticity of their submitted materials. According to national regulations and university rules, those found to have submitted falsified materials will have their admission, enrollment, and student status revoked, and the incident will be reported to relevant authorities.

3. Post-Admission Physical Examination and Eligibility Review: Sun Yat-sen University will conduct a physical examination and admission eligibility review for all enrolled students. Those who fail to meet the requirements or are found to have falsified materials will have their admission and enrollment canceled.

4. Supervision: The Admissions Office (Office of International Students' Affairs) of Sun Yat-sen University shall oversee the admissions process, while the Discipline Inspection and Supervision Department shall perform dedicated supervisory duties.
